</table>

Sample Essential Questions:
- How are people connected in time through history?
- How does history connect people?

Standards:
- WI Model Social Studies
  - B.4.4 Compare and contrast changes in contemporary life with life in the past by looking at social, economic, political, and cultural roles played by individuals and groups
  - B.4.5 Identify the historical background and meaning of important political values such as freedom, democracy, and justice
- Common Core – English Language Arts
  - RI.4.1 Refer to details and examples in a text when explaining what the text says explicitly and when drawing inferences from the text
  - SL.4.4 Report on a topic or text, tell a story, or recount an experience in an organized manner using appropriate facts and relevant, descriptive details to support main ideas or themes; speak clearly at an understandable pace

Directions:

Before You Begin
Choose two or more people who are connected by a theme. Did they all work for justice, or peace or democracy? Are their stories about leadership, or economics, or freedom? This will be the theme for your trading cards.

Design
Choose a color, background, and photo that show this person’s connection to the theme.

Title
Write the trading cards theme.

Main Idea
Record a short statement about how the person(s) depicted on the trading card relates to the theme.

Summary
Write a description about how the person or their actions connect to the theme you chose for your trading cards.

Name
Type your name.
Purpose
Describing Historical Events Using A Different Point of View

Task
Students will create one or more trading cards describing the historical importance of an individual from that person’s point of view.

Sample Essential Questions:
What makes a person important?
How do people create change?

Standards:

Directions:

Before You Begin
Choose a historical figure and think about why what he or she did is important. Ask yourself questions such as: What did he or she do that created change? How do their actions affect your life today? You are going to make a trading card as if you were that historical person and describe why “your” (meaning you as the historical person) actions make you the most important person in Wisconsin’s history.

Design
Choose a color, background, and photo that relates the historical person’s actions or why you think this person is important.

Title
Write a short phrase the Wisconsinite might say. This phrase should inform the reader about one of the person’s actions or characteristics.

Main Idea
Pretend you are the Wisconsinite. Write a short statement about why you (the historic person) are the most important person in Wisconsin’s history.

Summary
Write statements supporting your main idea using persuasive sentences starters such as:

- “Without me…”
- “Wisconsin would not be the same if I did not…”
- “Can you imagine if…”

Name
Type the Wisconsinite’s name.
Purpose
Using Imagery to Convey Meaning

Task
Students will carefully choose a trading card color, background, and image that represent a specific historic Wisconsinite. The learner will then write a short description detailing why he or she chose those visuals for their card.

Sample Essential Questions:
- What makes a person important?
- What is persuasion?

Standards:

Before You Begin
Choose a historic Wisconsinite. Think about what he or she did that was important. You will be carefully choosing a color, background, and picture for your trading card that represents that person’s actions. You will also be writing a short description telling why you chose that color, background, and picture.

Design
Choose a card color, background, and photo that relate to the person’s life and actions.

Title
Write a one or two word description about the Wisconsinite.

Main Idea
Type a short statement describing the Wisconsinite’s historical significance.

Summary
Write a short summary explaining why you chose the card color background, and picture, using phrases such as:

- “The blue of this card represents….”
- “The picture reminds me….”
- “I know _______ was a _____, so I chose…..”

Name
Type your name.
Purpose
Evaluate and Connect Historical Events to the Present

Task
Students will create a set of trading cards that describe how decisions and actions of historic figures affect their own lives.

Sample Essential Questions:
- How have historical events affected my life?
- What makes a person’s actions significant or important?

Standards:
| WI Model Social Studies | B.4.4 Compare and contrast changes in contemporary life with life in the past by looking at social, economic, political, and cultural roles played by individuals and groups
